Other vendors you need

3. How many weddings have they personally planned? Now, that seems like an obvious question, but you might over look it because of that. We all know why this is an important question. Experience matters!

4. Do you have a portfolio of weddings you've done that I can see? You wouldn't buy anything else without knowing what you are buying, so why should this be any different?

5. Do you have a list of references? You can rest assured that any previously disgruntled brides out there will not hold back if you contact them. On the other hand a bride satisfied with her wedding planner will be more than willing to give a glowing review. What bride wouldn't want to relive her wedding day?
